PRIMARY CARE IN THE COMFORT OF YOUR HOME

Did you know that you live in a community serviced by our care team at Twin Cities Physicians?

That means that you have access to our team of doctors, physician assistants, and nurse practitioners in the comfort of home without having to make a trip to the doctor's office or clinic.

Twin Cities Physicians visits you where you live and provides the services you need to stay healthy.

Meeting Your Unique Care Needs

We understand that choosing a primary care doctor, physician assistant, or nurse practitioner is a very important decision for you. We also understand how frustrating it can be to try to coordinate your care outside of your senior community. From scheduling appointments to traveling to a clinic, a simple doctor visit can become an irritating chore. Twin Cities Physicians specializes in providing care to residents of assisted living, memory care, and senior communities around the Twin Cities metro area. Key members of our care team are geriatric trained to meet your unique health care needs.

- Personalized 24/7 Support When You Need It –
Call us whenever you have a question or need some help, we're only a phone call away and are available to help you.
- Care Coordination to Orchestrate Your Services –
Whether you need help with your medications or need some lab work completed, we work with our partners throughout the Twin Cities to provide you with the services that you need in the comfort of your community.
- Convenient Technology to Serve You Faster –
Our care team uses technology to access your electronic medical records securely and act on your care needs quickly. We are also able to process prescriptions with our mobile devices, so you don't have to wait to see us in person to have your prescriptions filled.
